Join Cancer Support Community and Prostate Cancer International to gain a deeper understanding of “what you need to know” as you undergo certain stages along a prostate cancer journey. Medical experts in prostate cancer will provide you with information about the most relevant tests currently available (and new tests coming soon) and how they can best inform your decisions according to your level of risk about the treatment options available. You'll also have the opportunity to ask questions of the medical experts about specific tests and how they might inform your personal health situation.

The last Wednesday of the month from 7:00–8:30pm EST
May through October

Featured speakers:

May 26– Dr. M. Minhaj Siddiqui of the University of Maryland Medical School will give our first lecture on the diagnosis and workup of men with relatively low-risk prostate cancer

June 30– Dr. Eric Klein of the Cleveland Clinic will speak about the diagnosis and work up of men with higher-risk forms of localized and locally advanced prostate cancer

This program will be virtually hosted through zoom.

To register, goto <https://zoom.us> and type in Meeting ID: 977 7399 3508

Can't attend in person? Recordings will be available at CSC YouTube

ALL PROGRAMS ARE FREE OF CHARGE AND PROFESSIONALLY FACILITATED
